SHORT PROGRAMMES

Intensive and targeted short programmes on a range of topics, lasting from a few days to a few weeks. Programmes offered throughout the year – see website for dates and themes.

CUSTOMISED PROGRAMMES

For organisations facing ever-increasing challenges in a fast-moving international environment. Our programmes address organisations' specific training needs in international affairs and development issues over a period of one day to a few weeks. The Graduate Institute is committed to offering bilingual education. Customised courses may also be available in French.

OUR DISTINCTIVE POSITION

Our research expertise and legacy, strong ties to the international community in Geneva and our ongoing collaborations around the world – North and South – place us at the forefront of emerging issues in world affairs.

- Our ongoing research keeps our programmes current,
- Our global engagements maintain their relevance,
- Our Independence gives us the flexibility and the creativity to provide programmes that meet 21st century needs.

A cross-disciplinary approach to reflect the real-world dynamics of today's global challenges

The various issues explored within our Executive Education programmes draw on our research centres, programmes and ongoing projects across a range of interconnected global themes. Beyond the overarching themes of each individual programme, the Executive Education faculty brings additional insights into emerging trends, current challenges and practices in the areas of:

- Finance and Development
- International Environmental Studies
- Trade and Economic Integration
- International Governance
- Conflict, Development and Peacebuilding
- Gender, Globalisation and Change
- Management of Development Projects
- Global Migration and Refugees
- Culture, Religion and Identity
- Development Policies and Practices
- Dispute Settlement
- Non-state Actors and Civil Society
- Rural Development

EDUCATION ON WORLD AFFAIRS THAT MEETS YOUR NEEDS

OUR PROGRAMMES ARE

→ Flexible

They are specifically designed to give intensive exposure to key topics in world affairs while allowing participants to carry on their professional careers. They are delivered in various formats (weekend, modular, distance, and more).

→ Independent, Relevant and Forward-thinking

The Institute's faculty are published in a wide range of journals covering current issues in international relations and development. In addition to theoretical background, Executive Education incorporates this research expertise into programmes that provide practical, timely and concrete applications for participants' organisations and careers.

→ Engaging

We foster interaction across constituencies through collaborative projects and thought-provoking dialogues. Our programmes are an opportunity for you to return to formal studies with a dynamic and supportive learning community.

→ A Gateway for Career Advancement

Many participants pursue Executive Education to refine their skills, build new credentials and create a new path. At the Institute, you will be exposed to the diverse actors in Geneva through guest lectures, events and off-site visits. You can benefit from the Institute's network of over 11,000 Alumni worldwide and over 100 public events each year.

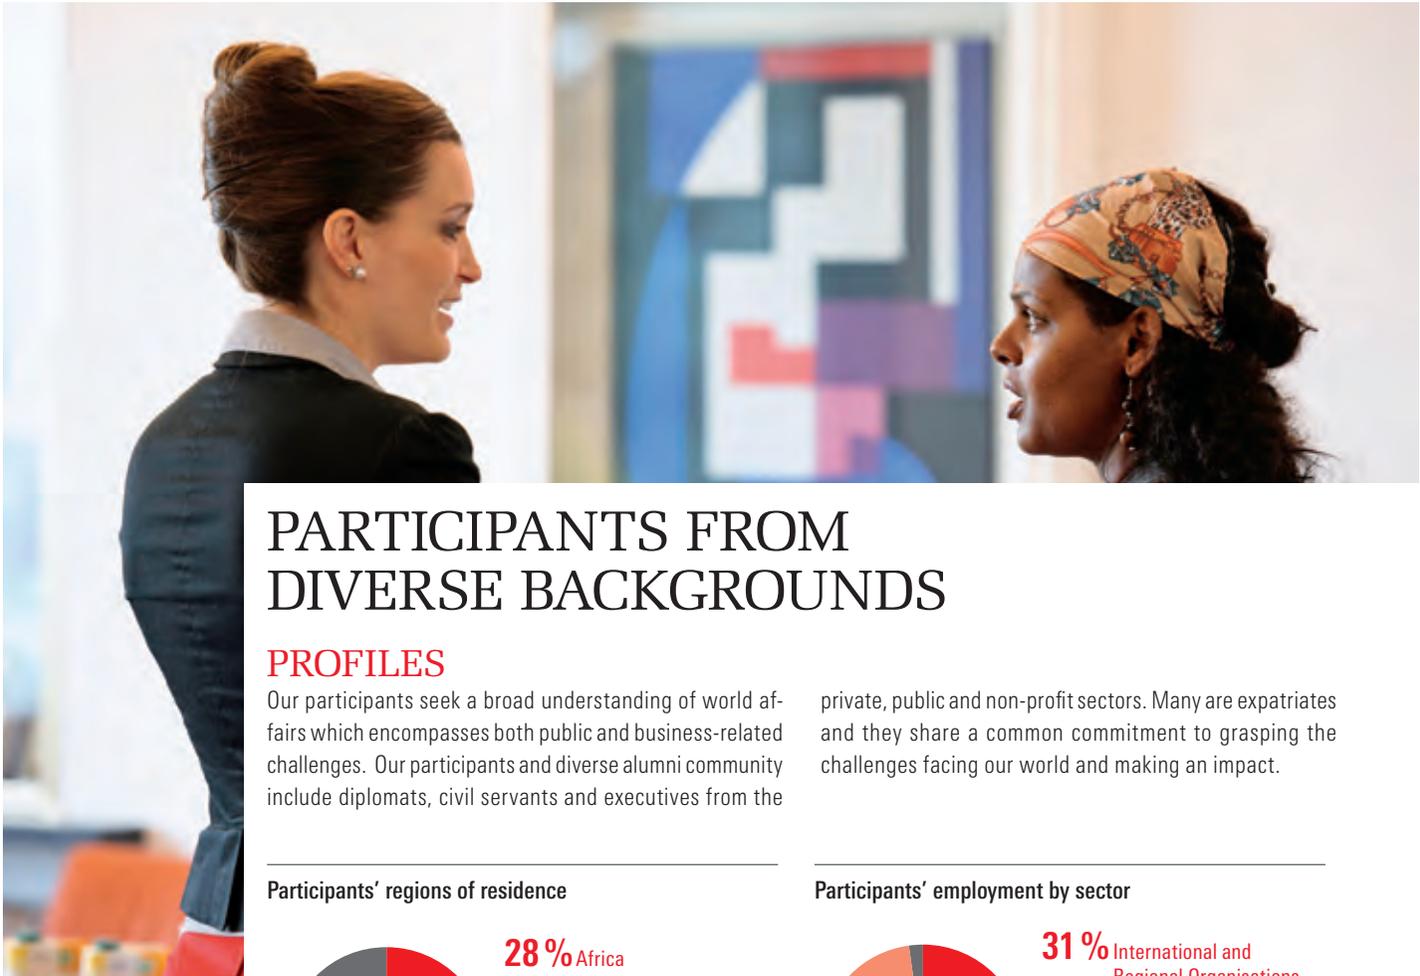

→ Globally Acclaimed

The Institute is a member of the Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs (APSIA) a network of the world's leading schools of international relations.

→ Swiss Accredited

The Institute is recognised as a university-level institution by the Swiss Federal and Geneva Cantonal governments. Our Institute is quality certified by the Swiss Center of Accreditation and Quality Assurance in Higher Education (OAQ) and the Swiss Certification Label for Continuing Education, Eduqua.

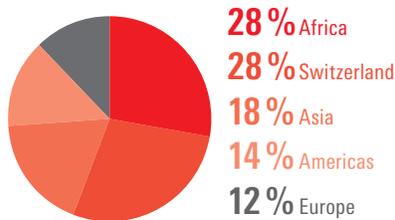

PARTICIPANTS FROM DIVERSE BACKGROUNDS

PROFILES

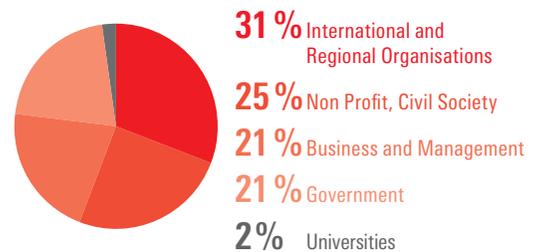

Our participants seek a broad understanding of world affairs which encompasses both public and business-related challenges. Our participants and diverse alumni community include diplomats, civil servants and executives from the private, public and non-profit sectors. Many are expatriates and they share a common commitment to grasping the challenges facing our world and making an impact.

Misha NAGELMACKERS-VOINOV, SWITZERLAND Alumni, Executive Master in International Negotiation and Policy-Making

Corporate and Public Affairs / International Relations Specialist, Banking Industry

“The Executive Master INP is not a one-way academic programme but benefits from a magic mix between co-participants, input and experience through role playing, speakers’ engaging visions of backstage current affairs and original perspectives in history, economy, international law, sociology and political science. Most of the INP faculty is also active in the Master and PhD programmes of the Graduate Institute; this definitively stretches your brain and opens new horizons.”

Almadane TANGARA, MALI

Alumni, Executive Master in Development Studies
Handicap International, Project Manager,
Decentralisation of Education and Health

“I think the programme helps train more competent and better equipped executives, but it also encourages cooperation and collaboration between executives from different continents. Through the programme I obtained as many skills related to theory and methodology as I did practical skills, which will no doubt help me carry out my work with more confidence and efficiency at the local, national, and even international levels.”

THE GRADUATE INSTITUTE, GENEVA

WELL-ESTABLISHED REPUTATION

The Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies is an acclaimed institution of research and higher education dedicated to the study of world affairs, with a particular emphasis on the cross-cutting fields of international affairs and development issues. Through our core activities, we aim to promote international cooperation and make a contribution to the progress of developing societies. More broadly, we endeavour to develop creative thinking on the major challenges of our time, foster global responsibility and advance respect for diversity.

The Institute offers postgraduate-level teaching (Master and PhD), thematic research on important global issues, executive education and forums for forward-looking reflection.

STRATEGIC LOCATION

Geneva, is home to many of the world's prominent international organisations, hundreds of non-governmental organisations as well as numerous headquarters of leading multinational companies, making it an ideal place to study, teach and research global issues.

The Graduate Institute's Executive Education building, Villa Barton, is located on the shores of Lake Geneva in a scenic park next door to the World Trade Organization.
