

YOUNG FORUM GASTEIN SCHOLARSHIP – EUROPEAN HEALTH FORUM GASTEIN 2017
3rd October – 7th October 2017, Bad Hofgastein, Austria

Call for Newcomer Applications, 2017

The Young Forum Gastein (YFG) Scholarship was initiated in 2007 in collaboration with the European Commission, to enable promising young health professionals to attend the annual European Health Forum Gastein (EHFG) for learning and networking. In particular, it offers a unique opportunity to learn about current developments in Europe and to network with a number of high level experts in the sphere of health.

Scholarships for young professionals from the public sector, science & academia and civil society organisations

We are pleased to announce that the EHFG would like to once more offer a number of Young Forum Gastein scholarships to attend the 20th EHFG. For young professionals coming from a university or national research institute, a ministry or an administration body or from a non-governmental organisation - the scholarship covers the EHFG registration fee, travel and accommodation expenses and participation in the tailor-made YFG programme 2017. This year's Young Forum Gastein was made possible by funding from the Robert Bosch Stiftung.

Opportunities for young professionals working in industry

As industry represents one of the four Gastein pillars, it is beneficial to have young people from this sector participating in YFG, to ensure a more rounded debate. If you are a young professional working in industry and you are interested in applying for a scholarship, please note that your employer has to bear your costs when applying. If you like to apply, please submit an expression of interest as per the requirements below, confirming that your employer will cover your costs (approximately 1800 euros including reasonable travel costs) to enable you to participate in YFG.

Application criteria

Scholarship applicants will have to meet the following requirements:

- Citizenship of one of the 28 EU Member States or candidate countries or EFTA countries (Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway and Switzerland);
- 35 years of age or under on 3rd October 2017;
- Proficiency in English (oral and written);
- Hold a Master's degree in a health related subject;
- Relevant work experience of at least 2 years (full time) in the field of health/public health (policy or research);
- Proof of current work in the field of public health (for a university or national research institute, a government ministry or for a non-governmental organisation - or if your employer will cover your costs, in a health role in industry);

By applying for the YFG scholarship the applicant confirms her/his availability to undertake an active role before and during the conference. This is a pre-condition for being accepted as a scholar. Activities may include participation in presentations, panel discussions, reporting on the event, contributing to the conference web-blog, conducting interviews etc.

YFG 2017 – duration

The YFG programme at #EHFG2017 commences one day before the official start of the EHFG conference, on Tuesday 3rd October 2017. Activities will take place up to and including the evening of Friday 6th October, with travel home on Saturday 7th October. Depending on flight availability some participants may need to arrive on Monday 2nd October 2017.
