

Fudan University

School of International Relations and Public Affairs

Exchange Programme

Places available for 2019-2020	2
Open to	MA and PhD students
Courses open to exchange students	English taught courses in the programs “Chinese politics and diplomacy” and “Chinese government and governance”
Language/s of instruction	English
Language requirements	Good command of English
Academic Calendar	Fall Semester: September to January Spring: February to July

The following application information applies solely to nominated students

Application Deadline	Fall Semester: 30 May Spring: 30 November
Admission criteria and application procedure	Online application in the Application and Payment System for International Students, Fudan University. PhD students should contact the IHEID exchange office to receive application instructions. The application fees are waived as students are regarded as school-level scholarship students.

Important Note: The Final admission decision always remains with the host institution.