Migration and Refugees

EDITED BOOK CHAPTER

True Love and Cunning Love: Negotiating Intimacy, Deception and Belonging in Touristic Cuba

Valerio Simoni, ANSO and GMC Research Fellow, has contributed to Intimate Mobilities: Sexual Economies, Marriage and Migration in a Disparate World (eds. Ch. Groes and N. Fernandez, Berghahn, 2018), which argues that intimacy-related mobilities constitute variations of cross-border movements shaped by and deeply entwined with issues of gender, kinship, race, and sexuality. ## Gender

RESEARCH DOCUMENTARY

Bubbling up: Solidarities, Feminisms and Social Reproduction in Latin America and India

This film presents findings of a SNIS-funded research project coordinated by Christine Verschuur, retired Senior Lecturer at the Gender Centre. More information >

Governance

From a Community of States towards a Universal Community?

Pierre-Marie Dupuy discusses the concept of “international community”, which deals with its identity and its legal nature, and then with the problem of protecting and defending the interests of this community (in Global Justice, Human Rights and the Modernization of International Law, eds. R. Pisillo Mazzeschi and P. De Sena P., Springer, July 2018).

Democracy and Civil Society

ARTICLE

“There Was A Third Man...”: Tales from a Global Policy Consultation on Indicators for the Sustainable Development Goals

Deval Desai, Research Fellow at the Albert Hirschman Centre and Visiting Lecturer, and Mareike Schomerus argue that the democratic deficits of technocratic global governance are much more complex than they appear, and cannot simply be tackled by calls for more democratically accountable expertise (in Development and Change, January 2018).

Les yeux de Chávez: populisme et post-vérité au Venezuela

Rafael Sánchez soutient que loin d'être de hasard, le mépris du gouvernement vénézuélien pour les «faits» est en soi-même révélateur d'une logique inhérente au type de populisme que représente le chavisme (in Les Temps modernes, mars 2018). Article >

Development Policies and Practices

ARTICLE

From Reconstruction to Development: The Early Years of the Food and Agriculture Organization, 1945–1955

Amalia Ribí Forclaz explores the shift, between 1945 and 1955, from FAO's low-modernist understanding of rural welfare to increasingly technical development programmes (in International History Review, June 2018). Interview >

EDITED BOOK

The State, Business, and Education: Public-Private Partnerships Revisited

Using case studies from both the developing and developed world, this book edited by NORRAG Director and Institute Professor Gita Steiner-Khamsi and Alexandra Draxler illustrates the variety of ways in which private actors have expanded their involvement in education as a business (Edward Elgar, October 2018). ### PORTRAIT

Dennis Rodgers, Gang Researcher

Newly arrived ANSO Professor Rodgers speaks about his ERC comparative research project "Gangs, Gangsters, and Ganglands", the safety challenges entailed in his investigation theme, the academic books that have inspired him, and his love for "fiction of all sort". Interview >

MONOGRAPH

Azan on the Moon: Entangling Modernity along Tajikistan's Pamir Highway

Till Mostowlansky, Ambizione Research Fellow at the ANSO Department, speaks on his in-depth study of people's lives amidst projects of modernity along the Pamir Highway in the borderlands of Tajikistan, China and Afghanistan (University of Pittsburgh Press, 2017).

CHAPITRE D'OUVRAGE

COLLECTIF

Religion et cours de natation

Lucius Caflisch commente l'affaire Osmanoglu et Kocabay c. Suisse, jugée par la Cour européenne des droits de l'homme en 2017 (in Anuario español de derecho internacional, vol. 34, 2018). Accès >

ARTICLE

Ethnographier les affects: captures, résistances, attachements

Carine Plancke et Valerio Simoni, chercheur au Département ANSO et au GMC, introduisent un dossier qui s'intéresse aux imbrications multiples entre expériences affectives et réalités néolibérales dans des contextes bien définis (in Tsansta: Journal of the Swiss Anthropological Association, no. 23, 2018).

WORKING PAPER

Customs Unions in International Law LAW: From Concept to Practice

Customs unions (CUs) have been neglected in international law scholarship, despite the fact that they are by no means a recent phenomenon. Michal Ovádek and Ines Willemynsa (visiting fellow at CTEI in 2017) fill this gap by conducting a scoping analysis of the concept of customs union and identifying key issues in CU designs (CTEI Working Paper CTEI-2018-05). ## Environment and Natural Resource

The Influence of Environmental Protection on the Fabric of International Law

Jorge Viñuales attempts “a conceptually organised account of how the ‘environment’ came to be increasingly protected by a wide range of international legal instruments” (in Global Justice, Human Rights and the Modernization of International Law, eds. R. Pisillo Mazzeschi and P. De Sena P., Springer, July 2018).

Finance and Development

WORKING PAPER

Maduro Bonds

For multiple decades, activists have sought to institute an international legal regime that limits the ability of despotic governments to borrow money and then shift those obligations onto more democratic successor governments. Mitu Gulati and Ugo Panizza raise the possibility of an alternate legal path to raising the costs of borrowing for despotic regimes (International Economics Department Working Paper No. HEIDWP12-2018, September 2018).
