

INTERNATIONAL LAW COLLOQUIUM

SPRING 2025

The International Law Colloquium is a forum for discussing international law scholarship, featuring diverse topics and approaches.

It provides an opportunity for in-depth engagement with ongoing research, with participants expected to read the drafts circulated before each session. Speakers include both faculty from the International Law Department and invited external experts.

30 January 12:30 – 14:00 room P1-745 & online		Thomas Henquet PhD, Leiden University	'The Third-Party Liability of International Organisations'
17 February 14:30 – 16:00 room S11 & online		Nicolás Perrone Universidad de Valparaíso	'International Law, Acceleration and Desynchronization'
20 February 12:30 – 14:00 room S11 & online		Nehal Bhuta University of Edinburgh	'Social Rights and the Origins of the Social Constitution'
13 March 12:30 – 14:00 room S11 & online		Giada Giacomini Geneva Graduate Institute	'Beyond the Courtroom: Non-Judicial Mechanisms of International Organizations – Prospects and Pitfalls'
20 March 12:30 – 14:00 auditorium A2 & online		Usha Natarajan Yale Law School	'Racializing Nature and Naturalizing Race: Consumption and Waste in International Law'
27 March 12:30 – 14:00 room S11 & online		Conor Gearty London School of Economics	'Homeland Insecurity: The Rise and Rise of Global Anti-Terrorism Law'
3 April 12:30 – 14:00 room S11 & online		Marika Sosnowski University of Melbourne	'Unstable Relationship: Documents, Checkpoints, Violence and the Law'
15 May 12:30 – 14:00 room S11 & online		Victor Kattan University of Nottingham	'Apartheid or Systemic Discrimination? A Connotative Reading of the World Court's 19 July 2024 Palestine Advisory Opinion'
22 May 12:30 – 14:00 room S12 & online		Omri Sender S. Horowitz & Co	'A Partnership for Purpose: International Law-making by the ICJ and ILC'